

Gene−level associations | Absence of significance does not establish biventricular equivalence